

The International Journal of

Human Rights

Volume 19 Number 1 January 2015

ISSN 1364-2987

 Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group

The International Journal of Human Rights

VOLUME 19

NUMBER 1

JANUARY 2015

An empirical analysis of US state court citation practices of international human social rights treaties Joel R. Carbonell and Christopher P. Banks	1
Victims, perpetrators, and the limits of human rights discourse in post-Palermo fiction about sex trafficking Alexandra Schultheis Moore and Elizabeth Swanson Goldberg	16
Refugee repatriation and voluntariness Mollie Gerver	32
Human rights education: educating about , through and for human rights Alison E.C. Struthers	53
A plethora of intentions: genocide, settler colonialism and historical consciousness in Australia and Britain John Docker	74
Same-sex marriage in Hong Kong: the case for a constitutional right Michael Ramsden and Luke Marsh	90