

The International Journal of

Human Rights

Volume 19 Number 4 2015

SPECIAL ISSUE: National Security and Public Health: Human Rights in conflict

GUEST EDITORS: Myriam Feinberg,
Laura Niada-Avshalom
and Brigit Toebes

ISSN 1364-2987

Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group

The International Journal of Human Rights

VOLUME 19 NUMBER 4 2015

SPECIAL ISSUE: National Security and Public Health: Human Rights in conflict

GUEST EDITORS: Myriam Feinberg, Laura Niada-Avshalom and Brigit Toebes

Foreword

National security and public health: exceptions to human rights?
Myriam Feinberg, Laura Niada-Avshalom and Brigit Toebes 383

Articles

International counterterrorism – national security and human rights:
conflicts of norms or checks and balances?
Myriam Feinberg 388

Protecting ‘national security’ whistleblowers in the Council of Europe: an evaluation of three approaches on how to balance national security with freedom of expression
Dimitrios Kagiaros 408

Resisting accountability: transitional justice in the post-9/11 United States
Jonathan Hafetz 429

From the barrier to refugee law: national security’s transformation from a balancing right to a background element in the realms of Israeli constitutionalism
Solon Solomon 447

The use of incapacitating chemical agent weapons in law enforcement
Michael Crowley and Malcolm Dando 465

Human rights and public health: towards a balanced relationship
Brigit Toebes 488

WHO International Health Regulations and human rights: from allusions to inclusion
Andraž Zidar 505

Some scepticism on the right to health: the case of the provision of medicines
Laura Niada-Avshalom 527