
East European Constitutional Review

Volume 12 Numbers 2/3

Spring/Summer 2003

Old and New Europe

The Balkans on Europe's fringe

Rupnik on the EU's new pro-American bloc

Michnik on what Europe means for Poland

A Quarterly Published by New York University School of Law and Central European University

East European Constitutional Review

Volume 12 Numbers 2/3

Spring/Summer 2003

Constitution Watch

2 A country-by-country update on constitutional politics in Eastern Europe and the ex-USSR

Special Reports

- 62 Adam Michnik asks what Europe means for Poland
69 Jacques Rupnik on the schisms in Europe
72 Arista Maria Cirtautas explores the EU's big-bang enlargement
78 András Sajó discusses the self-protecting constitutional state
87 Ivan Krastev and Georgy Ganev question the value of anticorruption campaigns

Feature

The Balkans: On Europe's Fringe

- 94 The Balkans: Between Old and New Europe
99 Perceptions, Europeanization, and the Western Balkans Development Trap
104 Out of the Brown and into the Blue:
The Tentative "Christian-Democratization" of the Croatian Democratic Union
113 Serbia after Djindjic
119 The Serbian Kennedy
120 The Milosevic Trial: Writing History

Alina Mungiu-Pippidi
Gerald Knaus
M. Steven Fish and
Andrej Krickovic
Slobodan Antonic
Vojin Dimitrijevic
Tatiana Vaksberg

Constitutional Review

- 126 Elections Without Order: Russia's Challenge to Vladimir Putin

Peter Rutland

Contributing Editors

Venelin Ganev
Robert M. Hayden
Richard Rose
András Sajó
Cass R. Sunstein

Editor-in-Chief

Stephen Holmes

Executive Editor

Alison Rose

Manuscripts Editor

Alarik W. Skarstrom

Editorial Board

Shlomo Avineri
Alexander Blankenagel
Arie Bloed
Norman Dorsen
Jon Elster
Janos Kis
Andrei Kortunov
Lawrence Lessig
Elizabeta Matynia
Marie Mendras
Peter Solomon