

European Human Rights Law Review

Guest Editor: Luke Clements

Issue 6 2011

OPINION

Disability Rights: From Charity to Equality
Thomas Hammarberg

ARTICLES

Conflicting or Complementary Obligations? The UN Disability Rights Convention, the European Convention on Human Rights and English Law
Philip Fennell and Urfan Khaliq

Disability, Dignity and the Cri de Coeur
Luke Clements

Handicapping Rules: The Overly Restrictive Application of Admissibility Criteria by the European Court of Human Rights to Complaints Concerning Disabled People
Constantin Cojocariu

Advancing Legal Capacity Jurisprudence
Oliver Lewis

CASE ANALYSIS

Crucifixes in Italian Classrooms: Lautsi v Italy
Birgit Schlütter

SWEET & MAXWELL

European Human Rights Law Review

Issue 6 2011

Table of Contents

Editorial	633
Opinion
Disability Rights: From Charity to Equality Thomas Hammarberg	638
Bulletin	642
Bulletin: Counter-Terrorism and Human Rights	645
Articles
Conflicting or Complementary Obligations? The UN Disability Rights Convention, the European Convention on Human Rights and English Law Philip Fennell and Urfan Khaliq	662
Disability, Dignity and the Cri de Coeur Luke Clements	675
Handicapping Rules: The Overly Restrictive Application of Admissibility Criteria by the European Court of Human Rights to Complaints Concerning Disabled People Constantin Cojocariu	686
Advancing Legal Capacity Jurisprudence Oliver Lewis	700
Case Analysis
Crucifixes in Italian Classrooms: Lautsi v Italy Birgit Schlütter	715
Case and Comment
Polednová v Czech Republic	722
The Swiss Muslim League v Switzerland	725
Al-Jedda v the United Kingdom	727
Al-Skeini v the United Kingdom	730

Bayatyan v Armenia	735
Stummer v Austria	738
Heinisch v Germany	741
Stoicescu v Romania	744
G v United Kingdom	747
Book Reviews	750