

Australian Journal of Human Rights

Never Stand Still

Vol 19 No 2 November 2013

The Australian Journal of Human Rights is a publication of the Australian Human Rights Centre, within the Faculty of Law, University of New South Wales

AHRC  NTRE
AUSTRALIAN HUMAN RIGHTS CENTRE

 LexisNexis®
Butterworths

Australian Journal of Human Rights

Volume 19 Issue 2 2013

Table of contents

Articles

Rachel Ball	Human rights and religion in Australia: false battle lines and missed opportunities	1
Katharine Gelber	Secrecy provisions in Australian counter-terrorism policy: violating international human rights standards?	25
Jessica C Lai	Bicultural art: offensive to the Māori or acceptable freedom of expression? Wai 262, the ICCPR and NZBORA	47
Judy McGregor	An insider's perspective of a national human rights institution inquiry into employment in the aged care sector in New Zealand	93
Sallie McLean	Lawful correction: why the legal and cultural discourse of corporal punishment is a human rights issue	115
Ann Neville	Reframing rights as obligations: implications for service users' ability to exercise their rights	147

Book reviews

Donald K Anton	Climate Change and Indigenous Peoples: The Search for Legal Remedies Edited by Randall S Abate and Elizabeth Ann Kronk	165
Eileen Baldry	Our Greatest Challenge: Aboriginal Children and Human Rights By Hannah McGlade	171
Fergal Davis	The Challenge of Human Rights: Past, Present and Future Edited by David Keane and Yvonne McDermott	175